

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR FAMILY.
When you fail to provide your family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough, Croup and Whooping Cough Syrup at this season of the year, you are neglecting them, as bowel complaint is sure to be prevalent, and it is too dangerous a medicine to be trifled with. THREE FIERCE TUSSLES ENLIVEN GOOD FRIDAY AFTERNOON IN HOUSE

A series of ginger contests made the afternoon of Good Friday entertaining in the House.

Coney gallantly won his fight for the sheriff's and their "poor little deputies" against the judiciary committee majority.

Yates stood up like a Lloyd-George fighting the lords, to have the writ of quo warranto made every free man's weapon, but he finally had to take the count as down and out.

Sheldon tried the Kaula Jiu-Jitsu stranglehold on Kawakoa's bill to reform the Maui county government, but although the Maui delegation had fairly rough house in the open over the measure, it came out triumphantly upon the calendar for third reading.

Sheriffs as Lawyers.
Sheldon delivered a long speech in Hawaiian, with a few remarks in English against the bill to repeal the law prohibiting sheriffs and deputy sheriffs from practicing law. While he was on the English of it, Speaker Holstein called attention of the House to the rule prohibiting members, while a member had the floor, from reading newspapers.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker," the orator said, as the afternoon papers rustled out of many hands.

Coney defended the bill on the ground that before a sheriff could practice he must have a license, and it was an undue restriction on him to prevent his taking any cases during his term of office. The arguments used against the privilege of practice held by a sheriff or deputy sheriff should apply just as strongly to county attorneys and their deputies. By getting men licensed as attorneys in the lower courts for sheriffs they would get better qualified men in that position than they otherwise could. Believing that the present law was unjust he moved that the bill pass third reading.

The bill passed on the following vote:
Ayes—Affonso, Cockett, Coney, Cooke, Correa, Fernandez, Huddy, Kamanoulu, Kanekoa, Kawakoa, Kellinoh, Marcellino, Rice, Towse, Watkins, Williamson—16.
Noes—Archer, Castle, Holstein, Kawewehi, Long, Mahoe, Makekau, Moanauli, Rickard, Sheldon, Waiaholo, Yates—12.

Hustace-Peck Baby Killed.
Yates pleaded long and earnestly to have his bill to amend the law relating to the writ of quo warranto so that any person might invoke the writ, instead of only the government as at present. The basis of his argument was the alleged public wrong made manifest when the government refused to bring a quo warranto suit against the Rapid Transit Co., at the instance of Hustace-Peck Co., Ltd., to inquire by what right the former company carried freight upon its lines.

Castle replied saying the whole origin of the bill was the fact that Hustace-Peck Co. was sore because the street railway was carrying freight. It would disgrace the Legislature to pass a bill destroying the safeguards around the extraordinary remedy of the writ of quo warranto.

Yates moved that the majority report of the judiciary committee against the bill be tabled. The motion was lost on the following vote, whereupon the majority report tabling the bill was adopted:
Ayes—Affonso, Fernandez, Kamanoulu, Kawewehi, Makekau, Marcellino, Sheldon, Waiaholo, Yates—9.
Noes—Archer, Castle, Cockett, Coney, Correa, Holstein, Huddy, Kanekoa, Kawakoa, Kellinoh, Long, Mahoe, Moanauli, Rice, Rickard, Towse, Watkins, Williamson—19.

The Maui Bill.
Diverse reports of the judiciary committee were presented on Kawakoa's bill to prescribe the tenure of office and manner of election of the supervisors of the county of Maui. Sheldon and Rickard said: "We do not favor the change in the form of Government of the county of Maui. The present government has worked well, and we see no reason for a change. We therefore recommend the bill be tabled." Chairman Castle and Long said they did not concur with the report of other members, adding: "We believe that the proposed change in the form of government will be beneficial. The fact that two supervisors will hold over we consider will add to the efficiency and continuity of the present system of government."

Sheldon, when the bill came up later on second reading, opposed its passage. Although it seemed a good measure to him, there was no evidence that that people of Maui want it. To pass such a bill, changing the government of a county, at the end of the session would be hasty legislation. Under the bill Kahala or Maui or any other district might be deprived of representation on the board of supervisors.

Kellinoh, without regard to the mandate of the Organic Act as to the language in which the proceedings of the Legislature should be held, displayed eloquence in Hawaiian without interpreting or being interpreted into English. What side he took was made evident by its effect on Sheldon. The Maui member sprang to his feet and denounced the bill as an attempt to create a worse political machine at Wailuku than the one in Honolulu.

Waiaholo of Maui then attacked the bill, declaring it an assault on the rights of Maui.

Kellinoh interrupted on a question of privilege, to say that Kawakoa introduced the bill at the direction of the Maui delegation.

Kawakoa defended the bill as well as the time it was introduced.

Watkins complained that the speech of the "gentleman from Waikapa" was not interpreted.

"Whom do you mean by the gentleman from Waikapa?" inquired Speaker Holstein.

"The gentleman of the Maui National Guard," the Oahu member said, with an indicating arm gesture.

"You're out of order," quoth the chair.

Kellinoh, however, tumbled to the occasion, and repeated his sentiments in English. His remarks were to the effect that the election of representatives at large to the Legislature had worked well, never having been the cause of loss of representation to any important section. Yet in the county election, under district representation, they had seen Kahala sending a Home Ruler to the county board. Supervisors of Honolulu were elected at large and the system proved an improvement. He intended to move an amendment to make the law take effect after the present term of supervisors instead of upon approval.

Rice favored the plan of election at large, and would like it for Kaula, but he did not like the provision making those receiving the highest number of votes elected for the four-year term at the outset. Candidates should be respectively nominated for the different terms. Neither did he like the provision making the chairman of the board the general manager of the county.

The ayes and noes were called on the second reading of the bill, when it passed by the following vote:
Ayes—Archer, Castle, Cockett, Cooke, Correa, Kanekoa, Kawakoa, Kellinoh, Long, Mahoe, Marcellino, Moanauli, Rice, Towse, Watkins, Williamson, Yates—17.
Noes—Affonso, Coney, Fernandez, Holstein, Huddy, Kamanoulu, Kawewehi, Makekau, Rickard, Sheldon, Waiaholo—11.

Wasted Effort.
Long's bill for the prevention of cruelty to children, amending the Hawaiian act of 1905, was tabled on the committee's recommendation, of which the author of the bill is chairman.

Kawakoa's bill to provide for the establishment of an industrial school for girls at Kama, Hawaii, was found by the education committee to be not drawn in the proper form, though its object was meritorious, and its tabling was recommended. Adopted.

Bills Advanced.
Kawakoa's bill to provide for publication of regulations of the Board of Health for the prevention and suppression of contagious and infectious diseases passed third reading unanimously.

Senate bill relating to circuit court expenses, with amendments by the finance committee passed second reading.

THE TREE OF AGONY IN GETHSEMANE.

The olive trees in Gethsemane wall, Pained by the tortured evening gale,
To branches swinging to and fro,
What is the burden of the woe?
"You're right in sorrow, kneel alone
The Son of God at Man, and none
Will follow him: Upon the ground
He wept and prayed; while all around
An agony upon the brow,
Heard only by the olive trees,
With yearning outstretched arms we stood
And watched that awful hour with God.
Now rest of beauty, guarded and old,
We wait his weight of woe untold."
—Edgar A. P. Newcomb.
